How To Get Access To The VRS X Closed Beta

VRS X is currently available as a closed beta for active ADS-B.Pro feeders.

Requirements

To receive access to the VRS X closed beta, you must meet the following requirements:

1. You must have an ADS-B.Pro account.
2. You must be an active ADS-B.Pro feeder.
3. Your feeder must be sending valid and stable ADS-B data.
4. Your request must be sent from the email address assigned to your ADS-B.Pro account and feeder token.

How To Apply

Send an email to:

info@ads-b.pro

The email must be sent from the same address that is assigned to your ADS-B.Pro account and feeder token.

Suggested email subject:

VRS X Closed Beta Access

In the message, briefly state that you would like to get access to the VRS X closed beta.

What Happens Next

After receiving your email, we will check whether your account is actively feeding data to ADS-B.Pro.

If everything is OK:

1. You will be added to the VRS X closed beta list.
2. You will receive your VRS X access token / license key.
3. You can download and configure the application.

Important

Access to the closed beta is granted manually. Having an ADS-B.Pro account alone is not enough. An active feeder is required.
